Molly Harvey, Corporate Soul Woman

The Corporate Soul Woman is Molly Harvey, one of the rare people who can say she is a Business Speaker, Corporate Educator, Managing Director and Author of books on topics including 'Leadership Development' and 'Executive Improvement'.

Molly set up her first company, MHA from an attic bedroom in 1993 and over the years attracted clients such as Bank of America, Barclaycard, Nestle, 3M and over 200 other leading organisations worldwide. Molly regularly lectures at universities throughout the UK. She has self-studied Behavioural Psychology over the last 25 years and has acquired a Masters in Neurolinguistics.

She was the first woman President & Fellow of the Professional Speakers Association 2005-2006. Current fellow of the Royal Society of Arts and Visionary & Founder of the world's first Soul School, which opened in Minneapolis, USA in September 2006 and has had the great honour of being asked to speak at the United Nations in New York in March 2006 & November 2007, where she was made an honorary member of the Women Rising Group.

Molly is interviewed and quoted frequently in the media and radio in England, Ireland and America. One journalist quoted her as, "a motivational speaker who can help people do what most of us imagine is a gift bestowed only to the Richard Branson, Tony Blair and Paul McCartney's of this world; she can help people visualise."

Anne O'Leary BSc, A&P Tutor (ITEC), MIRI

Anne qualified with a BSc (Hons) degree in chemistry in 1985. She then spent 14 years working in the pharmaceutical industry (initially in product research then in quality control).
